

Brad Milner

Site Manager

Brad was originally employed under our apprenticeship programme to assist in contract administration but quickly showed a great aptitude and interest in the project delivery of our contracts. Brad has developed skills for managing a team and has a determination to succeed which has seen him progress to site management, working on busy and complex projects for our aquatics department. .

1. Hi Brad, What is the top priority for you in the job that you do?

The safety of our team and the public is our top priority, along with minimising any negative impact on the environment we are working in.

2. What does a typical day look like in your role?

We start with a team briefing of the day's tasks, any toolbox talks and/or training on the works. I will then make sure that my team have all they need and have reviewed or updated their Risk Assessments. Throughout the day I will ensure works are going to programme whilst ordering any materials we need for the project ahead. Where possible I will spend time doing contract admin and updating the project plan and budget

3. What is your favourite part about working for Ebsford Environmental?

Working with a close knit team and enhancing different environments throughout the UK

4. What can you tell me about your plans for Boutham Park Lake?

We want to leave the park looking restored and improved. We want to make sure that all the objectives have been met, that we have enhanced the area and hopefully helped the visitors understand the work we are doing and its importance

5. What is your favourite type of landscape and why?

Definitely in and around the water, preferably in the warmer months. It's challenging but rewarding to make a difference that often can't be seen. But I suppose we also get to do the nice extras on the land too.

5. What are you most looking forward to doing when the coronavirus restrictions are lifted?

Seeing friends and family and of course a pint when the pubs re-open
